A Good Place To Be

Kevin McConnach was born and raised in Cochrane, Alberta. After graduating from Bow Valley High School in 2008, Kevin quickly found his passion in serving youth and families in Calgary and area.

Working as a Family Support Worker for Assure Community Services gave Kevin the opportunity to work with families in a variety of different roles including mentorship for youth, supervision of family visits, and parental coaching.

Kevin also held a position as a Teaching-Parent for Closer to Home. For two years Kevin lived in a group home with six children who had found themselves in government care, but whose needs and behaviors were not manageable in a typical foster home. Kevin was responsible for creating and implementing treatment plans that were tailored to the specific needs of each child. Kevin's ability to establish meaningful and trusting relationships with the youth in his care resulted in massive positive changes in the children's behaviors, attitudes, mental health, and family connections.

After taking some time off of work and touring the globe for a year, Kevin has returned to his home town with a renewed passion for connecting with and supporting youth in his community. In his developing position as an Outreach Worker for the Boys and Girls Club of Cochrane and Area, Kevin looks forward to providing the mentorship and support that is so crucial for a young person finding their way in life.

Kevin's favorite activities include basketball, boxing, and snowboarding. Kevin will never pass up the opportunity to take in a Flames game or to check out a new band at a local venue.
